[] MANAGUA LINE -- In the "for what it's worth" department: mentioned this morning that Telcor had sent someone to the Managua Embassy to try to locate the source of the hum on our dedicated line. (We don't think it's in the Embassy, but Telcor says it is.) [] said that he had talked by phone to the Telcor tech. He said the tech, who definitely sounded Cuban, seemed interested in checking our equipment to see if that was the source of the hum. I told [] to tell [] our contractor, to have the tech check only up to the terminal where the line enters the Embassy. We can have [] check the lines from there to our equipment.
